Introduction

Thank you for purchasing the QuietFlo® True HEPA Air Purifier from Hunter Fan Company. You have purchased our latest development in portable Air Purification Systems. This system has been developed to improve the quality of the air you breathe.

Our QuietFlo® True HEPA Air purifier out performs other air purification systems by quickly and effectively removing dust, smoke, and pollen particles. Room air is pulled in through the front grill and cleaned across the HEPA filter. Clean air is then released out the top grill.

The HEPA filter will remove 99.97% of particles 0.3 micros in size from air that passes through the filter.

The activated carbon pre-filter helps remove cooking, smoke, and pet odors from the air. It also traps lint, hair and large particles, which helps improve the life and performance of the HEPA filter.

Setting Up Your Air Purifier

1. Remove your air purifier from the box and take it out of the clear plastic protective bag.
2. Place your QuietFlo® Air Purifier on a firm, flat floor.
3. Before turning the Air Purifier 'on,' open the front grill.
   - For Models 30117, 30119 & 30145: To release the front grill, press the buttons on the side until the front grill slides easily over the buttons. (Refer to Figure 1.)
   - For Models 30095, 30214 & 30215: To release the front grill, place your fingers behind the tabs and pull forward. (Refer to Figure 2.)
4. The HEPA filter is already installed in the correct position, but you need to confirm that it is fully inserted. To remove, grasp the edge of the filter frame and pull it forward. Notice the orientation of the flaps and seal, which should be pressed firmly into the filter opening.
5. The carbon pre-filter is mounted inside of the front grill with "hook" tape. Confirm that it covers the grill vents. (Refer to Figure 3.)
6. Place the filter installation reminder sticker on the inside edge of the front grill. Circle the month and write the year of installation for the pre-filter and HEPA filter.
7. Replace the filter and front grill. Be sure that the bottom grill tabs are in position first, and then push the top of the grill forward until it is closed. The unit is now ready for normal operation. NOTE: This unit will not operate unless the door is placed in the correct position.
8. Plug the unit into a 120V electrical outlet.

Operating Your Air Purifier

On/Speed Control: Rotate the Speed Control knob to set the desired speed. A setting of zero (0) indicates that the unit is off, one (1) is low speed, two (2) is medium speed, and three (3) is high speed. The fan speed can be adjusted at any time.

Pre-Filter and Filter Timers

This air purifier contains timers that indicate when the pre-filter and filter should be changed. The timer automatically counts the number of hours that each filter has been in use. When the pre-filter counter reaches 2000 hours (approximately three months of use), the pre-filter indicator will be lit to show that the pre-filter should be changed. When the HEPA filter counter reaches 8000 hours (approximately one year of use), the HEPA filter indicator will be lit to indicate that the filter should be changed. The exact life of the pre-filter and filter will depend upon the environment. If necessary, the filters should be changed more frequently.

The reset the pre-filter or filter timers when one indicator (or both) is lit:

1. Change the filter and/or pre-filter as described in the Maintenance section of the manual.
2. To reset the counter to zero hours and turn off the indicator, simply press and hold the filter reset key for three seconds. If both the pre-filter and filter indicators are lit, the reset key will first turn off the pre-filter indicator. Then, you must release the reset key and then press and hold the filter reset key again for three seconds to turn off the filter indicator.

The reset the pre-filter or filter timers before the indicators are lit:

In some environments, you may want to change the pre-filter or filter more frequently than indicated by the filter indicators. This procedure allows you to reset the pre-filter or filter counter before the indicators are lit.

1. Change the filter and/or pre-filter as described in the Maintenance section of the manual.
2. Now, you must choose which timer you want to reset. Press and hold the filter reset key (approximately three seconds) until the pre-filter indicator flashes. Press the reset key again to alternate between the two indicators. The timer that will be reset is designated by the flashing indicator.
3. Once you have the correct indicator flashing, press and hold the reset key for three seconds to reset that timer to zero hours. The indicator will stop flashing when it has been reset. If needed, repeat these steps to reset the other timer.

Cleaner and Filter Replacement

1. Clean the outside of the unit with a soft, damp cloth. The front grill can be removed and cleaned in soapy water. Remove the pre-filter before cleaning the front grill.
2. At least every 90 days, replace the carbon pre-filter. This is necessary to maintain proper odor removing and overall filtration performance. If necessary, it can be changed more often. Mark the new filter installation sticker included with the new carbon pre-filter. Be sure to remove any plastic wrapping that may be on the new filter before you place it in the Air Purifier.
3. While replacing the pre-filter, you should view the condition of the QuietFlo® HEPA Filter. Compare the filter to the color coded chart that is on the inside of the housing. If the filter matches the dark color on the chart, you should remove the filter and replace it with a new filter. Mark the new filter installation sticker included with the new QuietFlo® HEPA Filter. Depending on use and environment, the HEPA Filter should last one year.
4. If you notice a decrease in air output or an increase in noise, the HEPA Filter may be clogged. Replace it with a new QuietFlo® HEPA Filter.
